

Sweeping Changes Continue for Place Louis Riel Suite Hotel

It's full speed ahead for downtown's Place Louis Riel Suite Hotel. Thanks to innovative Westcorp Properties Inc, sweeping changes continue to make Winnipeg's 3rd largest hotel a leader in boutique style accommodation.

"The quality is really remarkable," attests General Manager Krista Mask. "Guests enjoy so much more space and amenities."

Tailored for executives, conference-goers, and pleasure travellers alike, Place Louis Riel Suite Hotel's multi-million dollar rejuvenation smartly blends contemporary design and comfort.

Modern luxuries are standard in spacious studio, one, and two bedroom suites complete with full kitchens and open living spaces. Guests bask in leather furniture, large desks, king size beds, plush duvets, woollen bed scarves, triple sheeting, California style closets, granite countertops, soaker tubs with rain showerheads, flat panel televisions, complimentary wireless high-speed internet, fitness room access ... but that's just the beginning.

Home to one of North America's largest private collections of Aboriginal and Naturalist Art, the hotel showcases nearly 2000 original works by well-known Manitoba and Ontario artists. Twelve new vibrant works by Winnipeg artist Shirley Elias are also on display.

Stunning views of downtown Winnipeg, St. Boniface, the Manitoba Legislature, and the forthcoming Canadian Museum for Human Rights are also guaranteed.

Feasting for the senses extends to The Ground Floor urban diner. Sporting a new look and flavourful menu, the eatery plates comfort fare prepared with locally sourced ingredients. All-day breakfasts include Free Range Organic Omelettes, while lunch and dinner boast offerings like the signature Ground Floor Burger and Rigatoni with hearty meat sauce.

"And we're still moving forward," Krista adds, inviting guests to join Place Louis Riel Suite Hotel on Twitter, Facebook, and Foursquare to get sneak peeks into all the newest developments, ongoing package offers, contests, and local events.

And since renovations are just at the halfway mark, there's certainly more to come from Place Louis Riel Suite Hotel.
